Introduction to the Course

A Forensic Investigator is a person who looks for clues in a scene of a homicide and looks for the culprit. Similarly, a Computer Hacking Forensic Investigator, analyses a breached security system and tries to find out the culprit behind the breaching based on his analysis.

These analytics and proofs will then be used against the culprit in a court of law. So, from these instances we can see that a Computer Hacking Forensic Investigator | CHFI is a very prestigious post in the world of computers we live in today.

Basically, a Computer Hacking Forensic Investigator | CHFI uses several computing and analytical techniques to find the potential evidence which may lead to the proof that a cybercrime has been committed.
